NON-PROFIT PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION | EST. ACADEMIC NETWORK ACROSS ASIA & BEYOND

ICCT Opening Ceremony - scholars, guests, and organizers launching the International Conference on Culture Technology.

About IACST

IACST is an international non-profit professional association dedicated to advancing convergence across science, technology, art, and the humanities. Through peer-reviewed publication, flagship conferences, symposia, seminars, and educational programs, IACST cultivates creativity and rigorous scholarship for the next generation of researchers.

From its headquarters in Busan, Korea, and regional offices spanning the Americas, East and Southeast Asia, IACST connects universities, research institutes, and industry partners around shared inquiry in culture technology and applied convergence.

Objectives

1. Publish high-quality international journals that disseminate convergence research efficiently and transparently.
2. Organize international conferences for scholarly presentation and dialogue across academia and industry.
3. Convene professional symposia that advance frontier knowledge among leading researchers.
4. Offer seminars and educational programs that prepare young scholars for interdisciplinary careers.
5. Cooperate with global institutions to promote practical, collaborative convergence research.
